

Privacy Policy

Synchron Advice is committed to protecting your privacy and developing technology that gives you the most powerful and safe online experience. This Statement of Privacy applies to the Synchron Advice Web site and governs data collection and usage. By using the Synchron Advice website, you consent to the data practices described in this statement.

Collection of your Personal Information

Synchron Advice may collect personally identifiable information, such as your e-mail address, first and last names, or company name. Synchron Advice may also collect anonymous demographic information, which is not unique to you, such as your Post code, age, gender, preferences, interests and favourites.

There is also information about your computer hardware and software that is automatically collected by Synchron Advice . This information can include: your IP address, browser type, domain names, access times and referring Web site addresses. This information is used by Synchron Advice for the operation of the service, to maintain quality of the service, and to provide general statistics regarding use of the Synchron Advice Web site.

Please keep in mind that if you directly disclose personally identifiable information or personally sensitive data through Synchron Advice public message boards, this information may be collected and used by others. Note: Synchron Advice does not read any of your private online communications.

Synchron Advice encourages you to review the privacy statements of Web sites you choose to link to from Synchron Advice so that you can understand how those Web sites collect, use and share your information. Synchron Advice is not responsible for the privacy statements or other content on Web sites outside of the Synchron Advice family of Web sites.

Use of your Personal Information

Synchron Advice collects and uses your personal information to operate the Synchron Advice Web site and deliver the services you have requested. Synchron Advice also uses your personally identifiable information to inform you of other products or services available from Synchron Advice and its affiliates. Synchron Advice may also contact you via surveys to conduct research about your opinion of current services or of potential new services that may be offered.

Synchron Advice does not sell, rent or lease its customer lists to third parties. Synchron Advice may, from time to time, contact you on behalf of external business partners about a particular offering that may be of interest to you. In those cases, your unique personally identifiable information (e-mail, name, address, telephone number) is not transferred to the third party. In addition, Synchron Advice may share data with trusted partners to help us perform statistical analysis, send you email or postal mail, provide customer support, or arrange for deliveries. All such third parties are prohibited from using your personal information except to provide these services to Synchron Advice, and they are required to maintain the confidentiality of your information.

whose behaviour indicates that they are interested in a particular subject area.

Synchron Advice Web sites will disclose your personal information, without notice, only if required to do so by law or in the good faith belief that such action is necessary to: (a) conform to the edicts of the law or comply with legal process served on Synchron Advice or the site; (b) protect and defend the rights or property of Synchron Advice; and, (c) act under exigent circumstances to protect the personal safety of users of Synchron Advice, or the public.

Use of Cookies

The Synchron Advice Web site use “cookies” to help you personalize your online experience. A cookie is a text file that is placed on your hard disk by a Web page server. Cookies cannot be used to run programs or deliver viruses to your computer. Cookies are uniquely assigned to you, and can only be read by a web server in the domain that issued the cookie to you.

One of the primary purposes of cookies is to provide a convenience feature to save you time. The purpose of a cookie is to tell the Web server that you have returned to a specific page. For example, if you personalize Synchron Advice pages, or register with Synchron Advice site or services, a cookie helps Synchron Advice to recall your specific information on subsequent visits. This simplifies the process of recording your personal information, such as billing addresses, shipping addresses, and so on. When you return to the same Synchron Advice Web site, the information you previously provided can be retrieved, so you can easily use the Synchron Advice features that you customized.

You have the ability to accept or decline cookies. Most Web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. If you choose to decline cookies, you may not be able to fully experience the interactive features of the Synchron Advice services or Web sites you visit.

Security of your Personal Information

Synchron Advice secures your personal information from unauthorized access, use or disclosure. Synchron Advice secures the personally identifiable information you provide on computer servers in a controlled, secure environment, protected from unauthorized access, use or disclosure. When personal information (such as a credit card number) is transmitted to other Web sites, it is protected through the use of encryption, such as the Secure Socket Layer (SSL) protocol.

Changes to this Statement

Synchron Advice will occasionally update this Statement of Privacy to reflect company and customer feedback. Synchron Advice encourages you to periodically review this Statement to be informed of how Synchron Advice is protecting your information.
